

DECLARATION OF AUTHORSHIP AND EDITORIAL AGREEMENT

(To be completed by all authors)

Together with the manuscript addressed to the Editorial Board of the RELat, the author(s) accept the editorial policies below stated.

In order to initiate the evaluation and assessment protocol, all the items must be marked as already accomplished.

- The person or persons signing below declare that they are the authors of the work presented and confirm that the article is the result of their own original research.
- The author or authors take full responsibility for the content and the opinions offered in their work.
- The author(s) declare(s) that the article has not been plagiarized, in part or in full, from any source written by others or themselves.
- The article has not been published previously, neither in full nor partially, or in another language.
- The article has not been sent to another publishing house for consideration, neither in full nor partially, nor in another language.
- The author or authors declare that they own the rights to reproduce the material included in the article.
- The article fully complies with the Guidelines for the presentation and assessment of manuscripts, as well as the RELat's Editing Standards, including the presentation of the bibliography.
- The author or authors will send, together with the final version of their article, a second version in which there are no references to the authors (name of the author or authors, acknowledgements, research projects, previous publications or any other piece of information that may disclose his/her identity). This version will be used in the anonymous assessment process.
- The article includes a title, abstract and key words in English, in Spanish, and in the language in which the article is written, if different from either of these two.
- It is understood that by sending his/her/their work to their Editorial Board, the author or authors accept(s) the RELat's editorial policy.

Signed, the author/the authors
